

Teaching English in Japan

2020-2021

IJS

CAREER
SERIES

Thursday, October 8

5:30 - 7:00 pm

Online

Looking for a job in Japan?

Teaching English is a great way to live overseas,
gain cross-cultural knowledge,
and have work experience.

Hear from Ohio State graduate students who have taught English in Japan, including participants of the Japan Exchange and Teaching (JET) Programme. (The JET Programme offers university graduates the opportunity to serve in public and private primary, junior and senior high schools teaching English.) The student panelists will share how they prepared while they were undergraduates, how they applied for teaching positions in Japan, what it was like to teach in Japan, and how they prepared for the next step after living in Japan.

Panelists:

John Bundschuh, Ph.D student, Dept. of East Asian Languages and Literatures

Alyssa Cantrell, MA student, Dept. of East Asian Languages and Literatures

Dr. Abby Shelton, Lecturer, Dept. of Teaching and Learning

Jason Smith, MA student, EAS MA Program

Matthew Steinhauer, MA student, Dept. of East Asian Languages and Literatures

Registration (required): easc.osu.edu/events/ijs/career-oct8

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY

INSTITUTE FOR JAPANESE STUDIES

Free and open to the public.