

Career Talk: Job Hunting in the Japanese Manufacturing Sector - Not just for Engineers!

Tuesday, February 22
2:20 - 3:40 pm
Online via Zoom

Japanese manufacturing companies are not just looking for engineers and interpreters, there are opportunities in so many different fields!

Staff from THK Manufacturing of America, Inc., in Hebron, Ohio will cover topics to help students as they start to look for a job and have success as an employee, especially in the manufacturing sector.

Learn about:

- Majors - what are companies looking for
- Timing - when to start looking
- Company expectations and opportunities
- Company culture
- Mindset

Host/MC: Alexis McCullough, Supervisor, Culture & Engagement Department

Career Panelists:

- Justin Sheets, Supervisor for Bilingual Communications Support, Language & Communications Department
- Danielle Rymers, Bilingual Language Instructor, Language & Communications Department
- Katie Grundy, Scheduler, Linear Motion (LM) Scheduling Department
- Ben Beall, IT support Analyst, IT Department
- Steve Parish, Quality Manager, Quality Assurance Department
- Chris Fisher, Engineering Manager, Maintenance Department
- TBD, Human Resources Department

* Ohio State Alumni

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY
INSTITUTE FOR JAPANESE STUDIES

Registration: <https://easc.osu.edu/events/ijis-career-talk-feb-22>

Registration required - open to Ohio State faculty, staff, and students
Note: The event will be recorded - register even if you have a conflict to receive the link.