

National Consortium for Teaching About Asia (NCTA): A Seminar for 6th—12th Grade Teachers in Ohio

June 12—16, 2017

8:30 a.m.— 3:30 p.m.

The Ohio State University

The National Consortium for Teaching about Asia (NCTA) is a free 5-day workshop that provides 6-12th grade teachers with the knowledge, resources and expert guidance needed to incorporate or enhance curriculum about East Asia in their classrooms.*

Lead Instructor: Patricia Sieber, Associate Professor
East Asian Languages and Literatures, The Ohio State University

Participant Requirements

- Learn the history, culture, art, politics, current events, literature and more of China, Japan and Korea during one-week seminar taught by university professors and guest lecturers.
- Participate in discussions and activities that showcase trends, highlight similarities and differences, and stimulate thought-provoking dialogue on Asia and the U.S.
- Translate the knowledge you gain into three lesson plans—one each on China, Japan, and Korea—that will challenge, educate and inspire your students to learn more about Asia.

Benefits In addition to the knowledge you will gain about East Asia, you will also receive the following benefits upon completion of the program requirements:

- $400 personal stipend for your time and completed lesson plans
- $200 worth of seminar texts and resources to add to your personal library
- $300 resource buying grant for your school.
- Option to purchase graduate credit.

Application and details at <http://easc.osu.edu/ncta>

Application deadline: 4/1/17

Questions: stucky.7@osu.edu

Funding for the National Consortium for Teaching about Asia is made possible through the generous support of the Freeman Foundation, a nonprofit organization dedicated to providing educational opportunities about East Asia. The NCTA-Ohio seminars are coordinated by the East Asian Studies Center at The Ohio State University with the support of its NCTA national coordinating site, Indiana University.

* A non-refundable administration fee of $20.00 is required upon acceptance into the program.

 Only currently teaching educators and school administrators are eligible for stipends and resource buying grants. All requirements of the program must be satisfied to receive monetary benefits.