CAREER OPPORTUNITIES WITH ASIAN DEVELOPMENT BANK (ADB) & BRIEFING ON ISSUES IN ASIA

Bart W. Édes

Representative, North American Representative Office
Asian Development Bank

Thursday, November 8

1:00 – 2:15 pm

Enarson Classroom Building, Room 240

2009 Millikin Rd., Columbus, OH 43210, The Ohio State University

Mr. Bart Édes, the Asian Development Bank (ADB) North American Representative, will discuss career opportunities at ADB, and provide an overview of different options including Internships, Young Professional Program, and other short term and long term appointment opportunities. He will also offer a briefing on economic prospects and major challenges in developing Asia where ADB is heavily involved, regional integration trends, the implications of a fast-aging Asia, the social impacts of climate change, and how technology/ artificial intelligence will affect jobs in the region.

The Asian Development Bank was conceived in the early 1960s as a financial institution that would be Asian in character and foster economic growth and cooperation in one of the poorest regions in the world. ADB assists its members, and partners, by providing loans, technical assistance, grants, and equity investments to promote social and economic development. ADB is composed of 67 members, 48 of which are from the Asia and Pacific region. <https://www.adb.org/about/main>
