

Institute for Japanese Studies presents K-16 educator workshop:

Implementing Japan-related resources across the curriculum

Friday, October 17, 2014
10:00 a.m.— 2:00 p.m.
Whetstone Library
(Professional Development contact hours and lunch)

How can I incorporate diverse content into the classroom while addressing the common core/state standards?

Japan's National Road (Tōkaidō) -

"Journey along the Tōkaidō" has been created using various primary source materials, lesson plans and background material to show change over time and compare cultures as well as learn more about a very important part of Japanese history and culture.

Photo credit: <http://www.hiroshige.org.uk/hiroshige/>

Japan Discovery Boxes (Virtual)-

Online resources (including teaching resources and lesson plans) were developed to incorporate Japanese items and culture into the classroom and are aligned with (Ohio) standards.

Japan-Ohio Discovery Box Exchange Project -

Project to connect Ohio classrooms and classrooms in Japan.

If you are new to Japan or have included it in your classroom before, there is something for everyone!

Registration and details at <http://easc.osu.edu/events/oct17workshop>

Register by 10/10/14! Free to educators (includes lunch). Limited space so register early

Janet Stucky Smith | Institute for Japanese Studies | stucky.7@osu.edu | 614-292-3345 | <http://easc.osu.edu/ijs/outreach>

Co-sponsors: Institute for Japanese Studies, Japan Foundation Center for Global Partnership, East Asian Studies Center, and a U.S. Department of Education Title VI Grant