Do you know ORIGAMI?

"Oru" means “to fold” and “kami” is the Japanese word for “paper”. So, what does origami mean in English?

That’s right! It is paper folding!

"Look at this. What is it?...That’s right! It’s a bird. Do you know what kind of bird? It’s a crane! In Japan there is a saying that goes ‘Cranes live for a thousand years and tortoises live for ten thousand years’. The crane is a symbol for a long life in Japan.”

Today I would like to make a crane!
1. Place the colored side down on the table.
2. Fold the paper in half to make a wide rectangle.
3. Bring the bottom left corner up to the top and make a small triangle.
4. Turn it over and do the same.
5. Open the pocket and make a square.
6. Fold the left side to the center line to make a triangle and do the same on the other side. Fold the top corner down, then unfold and lift up just the top layer like this.
7. Turn it over and do the same.
8. Fold the top layer edge to the center.
9. Turn it over and do the same.
10. Lift the right upper flap to the left and turn it over and do the same.
11. Fold up the top layer.
12. Turn it over and do the same.
13. Take the end of one of the points and bend it down to make the head. The other point becomes the tail.
14. Pull out the wing!
