Did you study Japanese or go to Japan for study or work?

The Institute for Japanese Studies at The Ohio State University received a grant from the Japan Foundation Center for Global Partnership to help with the formation of an Ohio-Japan Alumni Network.

Were/Are you a student that studied Japanese at a high school or college in Ohio?
Were/Are you from Ohio and participated in a study abroad or internship in Japan?

This network is for any person that was involved in any Japan-related program in K-12 or college. This includes any language programs at any high school or college in Ohio. It also includes any internships or study abroad programs through Ohio schools or sister-city/state. We are trying to communicate to as many current or former students as possible to create a strong network of participants in programs related to Japan throughout the state. Help us spread the word about our first meeting.

Come and help the Ohio-Japan Alumni group get started.

Objectives:

- Network with alumni of own and other schools
- Network with Japanese language teachers at the Ohio Association of Teachers of Japanese (OATJ) Annual Meeting (same day/time)
- Establish goals & framework of network and how to encourage study of Japanese language
- Some will participate in the panel at OATJ Meeting “Lifelong learning for Japanese language learners: preparing students for the workplace”

Registration (by Oct. 25):
Meeting is free, but food count needed:
